

CroisiEurope Debuts New Ship for Sailing the Mekong River

By Jessica Poitevien - September 13, 2017

The RV Indochine II will be CroisiEurope's second ship to sail the Mekong River.

Travelers are demanding more options for cruising down the Mekong River, and CroisiEurope Cruises is answering that call with the inauguration of its newest ship, the RV Indochine II.

Making its debut on Sep.16, 2017, the RV Indochine II will join the first ship of CroisiEurope's Asian fleet, the RV Indochine, in cruising both directions between Siem Reap, Cambodia and Saigon, Vietnam via Phnom Penh, Cambodia from August to April.

Some highlights of this 11-day journey include tours of the temples of Angkor, the floating villages of Tonle Sap Lake, and the fish farms on the Mekong Delta. While on the water, guests can also enjoy stunning views from the ship's bars, pool, and restaurant or from the comfort of the private balconies outfitted on each cabin.
