In honor of Cape Town's Gay Pride Week, Extraordinary Journeys Africa is offering an eight-day safari from February 27 through March 4, 2012.

The rates for the package start at $4,200 per person, for double accommodation, and include most meals, a scheduled charter flight to Madikwe, private transfers and game viewing activities. Travelers spend the first four nights in Cape Town, where they will be able to see the Gay Parade, attend the Pink Ball, as well as other Gay Pride events. The accommodations are at Kensington Place, a gay owned boutique property, near Kloof Street.

The last three nights are spent at the Madikwe Game Reserve in the Sabi Sands at the five star luxury lodge, Jamala Madikwe Royal Safari Lodge. It consists of five private villas, with their own pools, and guests will be able to enjoy game viewing with some of Africa's highest concentrations of rare game. It is the fourth largest reserve in the country.

In addition, Extraordinary Journeys Africa can arrange for guests to experience other activities, including, for example, sea kayaking with African Penguins, taking a cable car ride up to the top of Table Mountain or a private shopping tour with a chauffeur.
