Finnair adds new destinations, increases summer frequencies

By Felicity Long

Finnair will add new destinations and frequencies for the summer season. Flights from Helsinki to Antalya, Turkey, and Tel Aviv, launch June 7, and to Palma de Mallorca, Spain, begins June 5.

The new service is timed to connect with the daily Finnair flight from New York's Kennedy to Helsinki.

Frequencies of established service will also increase for the summer: Flights to Malaga and Barcelona, Spain, will operate twice daily during peak season from June 7 to Sept. 22. Service to Madrid will operate daily throughout the summer and will increase to 10 flights a week from June 14 to July 30.
