India's architectural wonders, chaotic urban life, and exotic wildlife make it one of the world's most colorful subjects for photographers. India specialist Geringer Global Travel has crafted a one-off itinerary that allows travelers to experience the destination from behind the lens of award-winning photojournalist John Isaac. The 18-day itinerary departs from Delhi on March 9, 2017, and visits Agra, Suroth, Ranthambore, Jaipur, Varanasi, Khajuraho Bandhavgarh, and Jabalpur. Guests will experience Jeep safaris through tiger reserves in Ranthambore, meals in family homes, and boat trips down the Ganges in Varansi. The dates coincide with India's famous Holi Festival, a vibrant celebration of color that promises spectacular photo opportunities. Throughout the trip Isaac will offer hands-on tips and lessons for capturing the perfect shot as well as individual critiques. From $8,225; geringerglobaltravel.com.
