Geringer Global Travel Offers Trip to Camel Fair in India

August 15, 2012 10:11 PM

Geringer Global Travel is offering a custom trip to Pushkar to attend one of the world's largest camel fairs. The event takes place in Pushkar in India's state of Rajasthan. The 16-day trip also visits Delhi, Jaipur, Jaisalmer, Jodhpur, Udaipur and Agra. It's priced from $2,350 per person, double occupancy. Pushkar's annual Camel and Cattle Fair is not just about camels. It also is the lively site of livestock trading, artisan craftwork, dancing, dramatic performances and musical performances.

The itinerary will encompass a wide range of sights and experiences, including the Palace of the Winds in Jaipur, the Hindu temple to Brahma in Pushkar, the caravan bazaars of Bikaner, the Taj Mahal, an elephant ride to the top of the Amber Fort in Jaipur, a taste of camel-milk ice cream at a breeding farm in Bikaner, a visit to the markets of Jodhpur via tuk-tuk (motorized rickshaw) and a visit to the home of a textile artisan. The package can be upgraded from four- to five-star at a starting price of $3,229 per person. Prices are land only.
