

TOP STORIES IN Life &
Culture

1 of 12
Well-Heeled Men
Behind Manolos

2 of 12
Credits Roll on New York's NBA Season

3 of 12
Talent Trumps
Desire as Rangers Exit ...

SITES & SIGHTINGS | APRIL 23, 2011

New on the Travel Scene

Article

Comments (2)

MORE IN TRAVEL MAIN »

Email Print Save This Like 15 + More Text

By SARA CLEMENCE

View Full Image

InterContinental Hotels & Resorts

At the InterContinental Boston, clients can indulge in spa treatments with honey.

June and September harvests, the sweet stuff will come from the rooftop apiary established in 2010. intercontinentalboston.com

The Treatment

Beauty and the Bees

Here's a way to generate buzz for your hotel spa: Offer up treatments that incorporate honey made by your own bee colony. At the InterContinental Boston, clients can indulge in two organic experiences, an 80-minute exfoliating scrub with olive oil and sugar followed by a warm honey mask ($150), and a 25-minute foot treatment that includes a layer of hydrating honey ($60). Right now culinary honey is being used, but after the

View Full Image

Susan Geringer

Looking to spice up your travel? Consider exploring the cuisines of India.

The Tour

Curry, No Hurry

Provence and Tuscany have their foodie charms, to be sure. But if you're looking to spice up your travel, consider exploring the diverse and delicious cuisines of India. In October, Geringer Global Travel will run a 16-day culinary tour accompanied by Prasad Chirmomula, owner of five Thali restaurants in Connecticut. There will be excursions to the famous spice market in Kochi and a wholesale produce market in Mumbai, cooking classes, palace visits, yoga sessions and more. Guests will sleep off their meals at luxury hotels such as the Leela Kempinski Goa and the Taj Mahal Palace in Mumbai. From $12,910 per person, geringerglobaltravel.com

The Tracker

A 30,000-Foot View

Interactive iPhone app "WindowSeat" takes flight maps up a big notch. Enter your travel details and it will not only track the path of

KEEP CLIMBING
DELTA

OVER 300 DAILY
FLIGHTS TO TAKE YOU
TO THE WORLD AND BACK.

FIND FLIGHTS >

Now Available on the iPad® 2.

Get it Now

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL
live in the know