

LUXURY

LUXURY MAGAZINE

FALL 2016

What's WHAT.

See

A top equestrian event returns to New York's Central Park. The Rolex Central Park Horse Show (above) features world-class riding, jumping, and dressage. Georgina Bloomberg (daughter of former NYC mayor Michael Bloomberg), Hannah Selleck (daughter of actor Tom Selleck), and Olympic gold medalists Kent Farrington and McLain Ward are among the competitors. September 21-25. cphs.coth.com

Thoroughbred horseracing's biggest event of the year, the Breeders' Cup World Championships, takes place on November 4 and 5 at Santa Anita Park (above) just outside Los Angeles. World-class cocktails and cuisine, high-stakes wagering, haute-equestrian fashion (there's an official milliner), celebrity spotting, and the sport's best horses and jockeys competing for world championships...and huge purses. breederscup.com

See 130 early 20th-century art masterpieces at Fondation Louis Vuitton's Icons of Modern Art, the Shchukin Collection (below). This monumental exhibition (on loan from the Hermitage, St. Petersburg, and the Pushkin Museum, Moscow) includes Picassos, Degases, Monets, Renoirs, Van Goghs, and never-before-seen works by pioneering Russian artists. October 22, 2016–February 20, 2017. fondationlouisvuitton.fr

Perez Art Museum in Miami presents the first US museum retrospective of groundbreaking Argentinian artist Julio Le Parc, Form—Action. More than 100 wide-ranging works, including major installations and rarely seen works on paper, will be on view. November 18, 2016–March 19, 2017. pamm.org

A new museum, Dali17, opens in Monterey, California (where Spanish surrealist artist Salvador Dali lived and painted in the early 1940s). On display are some 580 works, the second-largest private collection of original Dali art in the United States. dali17.com

The glass-and-steel Pierre Lassonde Pavilion (designed by New York's OMA and Provencher_Roy of Montreal) at the Musée National des Beaux-Arts du Québec sits comfortably in a historic neighborhood. Inaugural exhibitions include a major collection of contemporary art, Inuit art, and decorative arts and design. mnbaq.org

Moscow's V-A-C Foundation—owned by Leonid Mikhelson, Russia's richest man—is restoring the historic, four-story Palazzo delle Zatterre in Venice's Dorsoduro neighborhood. Bookstore, restaurant, and garden on the ground level. Exhibition spaces and studio space on the upper floors. v-a-c.ru

Brazilian luxury furnishings brand, Artefacto, celebrates 40 years with its annual Artefacto Design House in Miami. This year, interior designers pair with fashion designers to showcase trends for 2017. Marisol Pinto with Brunello Cucinelli. Cary Fernandez with Dolce & Gabbana. Opens October 14, in Coral Gables. artefacto.com

Do

Montage Laguna Beach partners with SUP pioneer Buzzy Kerbox to launch "SUP with a Pro" (above). For stand-up paddleboard enthusiasts of all levels, including never-been-on-a-board novices. Three-night package, $3,925/double, includes VIP admission to the 2016 Pacific Paddle Board Games in nearby Dana Point. Available September 28-October 1. montagehotels.com

Feast on jerk chicken, grilled seafood, and callaloo stew when Peter Island Resort & Spa throws its first Caribbean Food Festival on November 11 and 12 (above). A beach barbecue with umbrella drinks and a seven-course, sit-down dinner (with rum) followed by dancing are on the calendar. A three-night (November 10-13) festival package from $2,148. peterisland.com

Montana Master Chefs Cook with James Beard All-Stars (from $979) at The Resort at Paws Up. Burn calories on wildlife hikes. Fish in fast-running streams. Sleep under a featherbed in a heated tent. Have breakfast on the trail or on a tray in bed. September 29-October 2. montanamasterchefs.com

Escape to Sausalito (above) for a food-themed weekend with James Beard Award-winning chef Joanne Weir at The Inn Above Tide (waterfront rooms with views of the San Francisco skyline). Joanne Weir's Sausalito includes dinner for two at her award-winning eatery, Copita. Offered June 1 through December 30. From $560/night for two. joanneweir.com; innabovetide.com

Canopy—a membership-based contemporary workspace on Fillmore Street in San Francisco's Pacific Heights—is the first of Yves Behar and Amir Mortazavi's sophisticated, high-design office spaces. Expert tech support and fully stocked kitchens are included. Memberships range from $650/month for a shared table for casual adapters to upwards of $4,000/month for a private office. canopy.space

Need to relax in LA...and who doesn't? Spend an hour at Pause, a new float-therapy studio (above). Your private pod of Epsom salt-infused water helps you float, unwind, decompress, and lower your stress. The effects can last for days. pausefloatstudio.com

Ellerman House, dramatically sited in Cape Town's Bantry Bay, offers tailor-made Benguela Diamond Safaris (from $14,750). Hotel guests join the Benguela dive masters as they mine the seabed for diamonds (below). After lunch, the diamonds are sorted and the guests choose a diamond-in-the-rough to be cut, polished, and set into a piece of jewelry. Private flights. Private, chef-prepared lunches and dinners. Dom Pérignon. ellerman.co.za

If you have kids, you've seen the Disney fantasy adventure film Pete's Dragon. Now take the family to see the real-life locations in New Zealand where it was filmed. Rotorua Redwood Forest (where Elliot the dragon lives). The small town of Tapanui that was transformed into a Pacific Northwest village for the movie. newzealand.com

Henri Cartier-Bresson shot with a Leica. So do Brad Pitt and the Queen of England. Now you can too. Luxury Collection hotels in key global destinations invite guests to explore hidden gems and cultural icons by loaning guests a Leica and a cultural discovery map (below). starwoodhotels.com >

