Hunt for Dragons in Indonesia

That's right, they exist—Komodo dragons, anyway. And Aman Resorts is going to help you find them with their Amanwana Komodo Expedition.

This 7-day journey is hosted at Amanwana, a luxury tented hideaway on Moyo Island, just east of Bali, Indonesia. During their time there, guests will explore the wilderness of Komodo National Park and the only two islands in the world where the Komodo dragon can still be found. The package includes 2-night accommodations at Amanwana, followed by a 5-night cruise through the Nusa Tenggara island chain aboard the Amanikan, the property's 105-ft. cruiser.

While on land, guests will also enjoy one complimentary dive per person per day, and two dives per person per day while cruising.

Rates start at $27,840 per couple and include all accommodations, meals and non-alcoholic beverages, plus daily dives and ranger's fees for Komodo National Park. For more information, visit amanresorts.com.

The Queen of Long Roads in Italy

Ever wonder what a Roman soldier might've seen as he traveled the country's roads? Your clients can experience it for themselves with Perillo Tours' 10-Day Appian Way itinerary, guiding travelers along the "Queen of Long Roads," also known as the Appian Way.

Built in 312 B.C., The Appian Way was created to be the main route leading from Rome to the seaport of Brindisi, Apulia. Along the tour, guests will take that journey, starting in Rome and traveling through Naples, Matera, and into the heel of the boot, ending in Lecce. The tour is professionally guided with stops at the Vatican Museums, St. Peter's Basilica and the Colosseum; a visit to Pompeii and Mt. Vesuvius as well as to the island of Capri; the ancient town of Matera to see its inhabitants living in the same dwellings as their ancestors 9,000 years ago; and the Basilica of the Holy Cross and Bishop's Palace in Lecce.

Rates start at $3,390 pp dbl, including airport transfers, superior first class and deluxe hotel accommodations, daily breakfast; six dinners; one lunch; guided tours and wireless headsets to hear guides while in the more crowded areas. The 10-Day Appian Way tour will be available for five departure dates from June 21 through Oct. 11. For more information, call (800) 431-1515 or visit perillotours.com.
