Ever since I first read the "Odyssey" I've wanted to go to Greece. Heck, I have a degree in classical studies. Yet, I've never had the funds to make it there.

An email I got from Perillo tours has again piqued my interest. And it offers a good deal!

abertrand After sitting in the sauna that is my office for the past 10 hours, I'm happy to be heading to the ice rink!

abertrand I really want to turn on the AC. I'm used to sleeping at 60 degrees; it's 74 here. That would be wrong though, right? #itsfreakingdecember

From the email:

Perillo Tours is currently offering an incredible deal on their new 12-day land and luxury cruise tour of the Greek islands. Book the Greek Island Yacht Cruise Odyssey, to launch in summer 2013, by December 31st 2012 and save $1,000 per couple on this luxury vacation.

Including sightseeing tours of Athens and Delphi, travelers will embark upon the luxury Harmony V yacht, dropping anchor at the beautiful islands of Mykonos, Santorini, Crete, Kythira, Monemvassia and Nafplion.

Tour includes a dinner at the legendary Dionysus Restaurant with breathtaking views of the Acropolis, exclusive lecture by a historian at the Delphi Museum, wine tasting, and a donkey ride along up the spectacular cliffs of Santorini.

This exclusive and intimate yachting experience is ideal for honeymoons, anniversaries or simply a well-earned vacation, the tour includes both land and sea journeys and begins at $3,990, per person.

Couples save a combined $1000 on their tour when booking and paying by Dec. 31.
