The third edition of the St. Barth Gourmet Festival (previously known as Taste of St. Barth) will take place November 3-6, 2016. Once again, St. Barth Properties is offering an exclusive gourmet package to travelers looking to get a taste the island's flavors during the festival.

Travelers who book a week at one of the following villas get to dig into the fun with a reservation at one of the 4-course* Gourmet Festival dining events:

Villa Aurore: With five bedrooms and five and a half baths, Villa Aurore is perfect for a family or a group of friends traveling together. It offers a breathtaking view of the sea thanks to its location on the hillside of St. Barth. Prices for this villa start at $7,920 per week.

Villa Matajagui: This two bedroom villa will offer the ideal athletic getaway. It offers a heated pool, an air-conditioned gym and stationary bike. It's also possible to enjoy both the sea and the mountain thanks to its ideal location into the hillside of Flamands. Villa Matajagui is also part of the Drive, Dine & Relax Package. Prices for this villa start at $6,570 per week.

Villa Utopic: This luxurious three bedroom villa is the perfect place for art lovers as it is possible to enjoy pieces by the well-known photographer Désirée Dolron. Its spacious outdoor living also make it the perfect place to host an event. Prices for this villa start at $20,070 per week.

Villa Curiosité: Located in Lurin, this three bedroom villa is the ideal place to relax and enjoy the sunset in the pool. Prices for this villa start at $12,070 per week.

Villa Eternity: This five bedrooms five bathrooms villa is the place to go for families, as this is a child friendly property, but also for a group of friends traveling together. It is part of the Grand Cru Collection offering additional amenities such as morning delivery of coffee, fresh fruit and French pastries and evening turndown service. Prices for this villa start at $15,070 per week.

Travelers planning to stay at one of the other villas in St. Barth Properties' portfolio can ask their travel concierge about making a reservation* at one of the Gourmet Festival meals. Visitors can choose from a 4-course meal for 95 euros or an 8-course meal for 130 euros. Beverages can be included for an additional fee.

Gourmet Festival reservations are based on availability. Package includes reservations a 4-course Gourmet Festival meal of their choosing. Beverages not included.*
