
The Columbus Dispatch

Italy in Vogue: Milan Fashion Week & Italian Style

The Columbus Dispatch 15 Oct 2017 Sstephens@dispatch.com

ZICASSO, 650-395-8890, zicasso.com

THE TRIP: This customizable excursion includes a 10-day tour with exclusive access to Milan Fashion Week.

Guests will participate in eight private tours, including behind-the-scenes access to Armani, Bulgari, Fendi, Ferragamo, Prada and Rolex. Stops include Milan, Tuscany, Florence and Rome.

The trip includes a private master class in the art of perfume-making, an opera at Teatro dell'Opera di Roma, a visit to the Italian Institute of Fashion and six days with professional English-speaking fashion shoppers.

Perks include VIP, no-waitentry tickets to museums and other attractions, nine nights in premier accommodations with breakfast, a cellphone and Italian SIM card for use during the trip, and 24/7 telephone assistance.

The trip coincides with Milan Fashion Week, Feb. 21-27 or Sept. 19-25, 2018.

THE COST: from $9,899 per person, double occupancy NORTH DAKOTA

Teresa Harris of Grove City visits Rugby, North Dakota, the Geographical Center of North America. Be sure you have a full tank of gas and something to eat and drink, she says, as there is only one gas station

along the way. GERMANY

Linda Tisdale of Columbus and Ann MacDonald of Dublin visit Schwangau, Germany. They report that Mad King Ludwig had three castles, and although the most famous is Neuschwanstein (behind them), Linderhof and Herrenchiemsee are more interesting.