The Force Awakens with These 'Star Wars' Vacation Packages

And you don't have to go to a galaxy far far away.

With the highly anticipated release of Star Wars: The Last Jedi, travelers are definitely going to be inspired by some of the out-of-this-world scenes in the series' eighth film. Luckily, you don't have to take the Millennium Falcon to get to Ach-To in order to enjoy those massive ocean views.

Here are two incredible packages for those who want to live that sci-fi fantasy.

Brendan Vacations is offering $200 off airfare (if booked by Jan 11) for their Isle Awakens 11-day vacation that brings travelers to Ach-To, Luke Skywalker's hideout at Skellig Michael and throughout other famous Wild Atlantic Way Star Wars locations via your own personal X-wing (rental car), such as Kerry, Donegal, and Malin Head. Travelers can climb the 670 steps leading up to its sixth-century monastery of the UNESCO World Heritage site and awaken their inner force at the 400-million-year-old Skellig Michael.

The trip runs 11 days starting at $1,190, per person – including accommodations, full daily breakfast, rental car and itinerary + $200 off airfare per couple if booked by Jan 11.

Zicasso is taking fans (and those who love them) on a nine-day tour of Croatia that blends the epic adventures of the Star Wars universe with the beloved charms of Croatia's historical architecture and cultural heritage. With overnight stays in Dubrovnik, Korcula, Hvar, Brac, and Split, the city of Dubrovnik especially serves a particular importance to the Star Wars universe as the setting for the new fantastical casino city of Canto Bight (as well as King's Landing in the hit HBO series Game of Thrones). Fans will spend a day touring this historic "Jewel of the Adriatic" that will be transformed in the next film into the chic city in a distant galaxy known for lavish parties and high-rolling visitors. Additionally, travelers will also visit Croatia's first underwater winery beneath the Adriatic, the preserved, defensive walls at Ston, beautiful Krka National Park, the Roman complex known as the Diocletian's Palace and the dramatic defenses of Klis Fortress.

This 9-day customizable itinerary begins at $3,799 per person, based on double occupancy. Package includes all private land transfers including to and from airport, 8 nights in 4-star accommodations with breakfast included, 8 privately guided tours
