Finnair Flight Attendants Perform Earth, Wind and Fire

Screen Cap via YouTube.

Nothing makes us happier than seeing airline crews having a little bit of fun, especially in the form of coordinated dance/song. It all started with Cebu Pacific's in-flight safety demonstration, then Scandinavian Airlines' "Love is in the Air" same-sex marriage song, and this summer's Hawaiian Airlines' Hula dance. Today, Finnair joins this prestigious family. This video of the gorgeous ladies of Finnair popped up on the airline's YouTube station, and we're loving it. Donning their still-so-classy uniforms, the crew dances to Earth, Wind and Fire's September.

Check it out after the jump...
