Flying high with Marimekko

I just love a good design collaboration, don't you? And I especially love anything involving Marimekko. So when I heard about the latest Marimekko collaboration, I just about flipped!

Can you imagine seeing this in the air above you?

Marimekko has partnered with Finnair (Finland's air carrier), to add their iconic prints to aircraft exteriors and design a collection of textiles and tableware featuring their signature patterns.

MINDY AND JILLIAN

We are two friends who share a love of home interiors, art and graphic design. This blog is where we post projects we've done, inspirational items and the things that make us happy. Come join us! We'd love to hear what you think.

Want to see where it all began? Here's the link to our first post.

Pretty perfect. Finnair says its goal is to become a "design airline" and I love this quote from the airline's CEO:

Finnair aircraft will become roving ambassadors of timeless Finnish design and creativity, giving our customers a special experience when they fly with us.

Love it! Hope to experience this design collaboration in person one day...
