Finnair Connects Europe to Northern China

July 7, 2011
By: Meagan Drillinger

SHARE +MORE 6 +1 0 Like Be the first of your friends to like this.

In May 2012, Finnair will begin offering direct service to Chongqing, China.

"China is a key part of our Europe-Asia strategy," said Mika Vehviläinen, President and CEO of Finnair in a statement. "Western China is an important growth area, and the new route will strengthen our market share in the growing Asian markets. In addition to Chongqing, Finnair flies to Beijing, Shanghai and Hong Kong with a total of 26 weekly flights."

The new route will service Helsinki to Chongqing, with a flight time of eight and a half hours.

Visit www.finnair.com.

What do you think of this article?
Love it | Recommend | Amazing | Dull | Agree | Disagree | Outrageous

Everyone | Friends | Me

Recent user activity on www.travelagentcentral.com:

DOT Fines Agents for Violations of Code-Share and Price Rules
Passengers have a right to know which airline will be operating their ...
an hour ago

All Americans Can Travel Legally to Cuba--With Exceptions
Insight Cuba, a division of Cross Cultural Solutions, was reauthorized...
Wed Jul 06 2011

What to Do When Vacations Go Bad
Travel Agent takes a good look at the ins and outs of selling travel i...
Wed Jul 06 2011

To B&B, Or Not? B&Bs Have Strong Market Appeal

Log out