To celebrate India's 63rd Republic Day, flight attendants on a New Delhi-bound Finnair flight treated passengers to a "Bollywood-themed groove-shakin'."

Flight attendant Helena Kaartinen came up with the idea and recruited crew members for twice-weekly dance rehearsals led by a former flight attendant who teaches Bollywood dance in Mumbai. The show took place during the Jan. 17 flight.

"It was a good way to show respect," she told The New York Times.

Flying should always be this fun.
